TIPS

Men's Fashion-Tips

By: John Bernie

Know when to ignore store associates.

Don't let them pressure you into any items no matter how good they tell you it looks. It's much better to have a trusted source along with you to help.

Don't shop for "Fashion".

Don't jump on the trend carousel.
Always focus on pieces that are timeless and that play well with others.
This will save you money season after season.

Wait for a holiday

Retailers love an excuse for a sale. On nearly any holiday, you'll find stores that are having some promotional deal. It isn't necessary to always wait, but try to save your bulk shopping trips until then.

Know what you need

Have you ever gone into the grocery store without a list and returned with everything you didn't need? Same idea here.

Buy the best you can afford

Whatever your level of income, you should be purchasing the level of quality you can afford.

If there is nothing you like, leave

Too many people make purchases just because they like the store and feel obligated once they're inside. Don't spend money on an item unless you love or need it. Just walk out, no one cares.

Shop for particular out of season

Coats are cheap in the summer. Swim shorts are cheap in the winter. Granted there will be less of a selection when you shop out of season, but you can save a good deal of cash if you find the right item out of season.

Know Your Size & What Suits Your Shape

Always Know you size Before Buying anything especially when we talk about the Fashion

Set A Budget & Stick To It

For each piece of clothing, you should have an idea of what you're willing to spend. Big or small, a budget should always be set when shopping. Retail staff are there to help you, but their job is to get the most amount of cash out of your pocket.

Stick To Brands You Know & Like

For the guys who have no time to even think about shopping, try to stick to the brands that you know will fit you and of course like their product.
